

Imagine living in a culture where dishonesty and deception are accepted as normal. Imagine living in a culture where evil is rampant. Imagine living in a culture where people are known for laziness and gluttony. How would a Christian person, family, or church ever hope to influence a culture like this rather than become like it? Find out as we walk through the book of Titus in this new series called “Influence,” and learn how the gospel transforms us into people who are eager to do what is good!

Discussion Questions: (Leaders please review each question and pick those that will be most beneficial for your group.)

1. We have now talked about older men, older women, younger women, and younger men in the last few weeks (Titus 2:1-8). Concerning your household position, what are some things that God has been teaching you these weeks?
2. Verse 6 simply says that young men are supposed to live self-controlled lives. Why do you suppose that’s all it says? Why isn’t the list longer?
3. We read in verse 7-8 that Titus is supposed to be an example for the young men to follow. Who is a Titus in your life? What have you learned from that person? Are you a Titus in someone else’s life? If so, describe that relationship.
4. Paul instructs Titus to teach with integrity, which has to do with motives? Why is it important for “Titus people” to have right motives when we teach others how to live Godly lives? Our single greatest motive should be for the glory of God, but what are some other motives that can get in the way?
5. In verses 11-13 we see that the grace of God is what teaches us to live self-controlled lives. What is the grace of God in these verses? How does this grace help us live self-controlled, Godly lives?
